May Ask Funds To Widen Road

The town may be asked at the special town meeting for a sum of money to expend in connection with state and county funds on the widening of North Main street where the car-tracks were formerly located. The state, according to Commissioner William Callahan in a letter to Rep. Thomas J. Lane, is planning to widen the roadway from Stimpson's bridge to the Lawrence line, the entire expense being borne by the state since it is a state highway between those two points. However, there will be a narrow stretch from the bridge up to Harding street, about 500 feet, which the state hopes will also be done at this time. It is a Chapter 90 road, and the state would contribute one-half, with the county and town to contribute the other half.

The job would be let out to contract, since the town is not equipped for concrete road work. It was approved by the state board last Wednesday.

Awaiting Reply On Removal Of Rails

No reply has been received from the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway yet as to the removal of the street car rails on Main street as suggested by the Board of Public Works recently. The selectmen communicated with the trustees about their end of it, but vice-president Cummings is at present on vacation. No difficulties are anticipated.

REACHES SEMI-FINALS

At the Junior Boys' tennis tournament at the Tedesco Country Club last week, in Swampscott, Wright Bolton, Jr., of Poor street was eliminated in the semi-finals. Stephen Moss of York street reached the third round, and Warren Gauthier of Haverhill street also played.

Truck Rerouting To Be Meeting Topic

A meeting is to be held this evening by the Andover Safety committee to give further consideration to the problem of through truck traffic in Andover. Although the Massachusetts Motor Truck Association agreed to ask its members to go over the by-pass at the time the bridge over the Shawsheen on the Den Rock road was widened, the committee feels that very little actual progress has been made in rerouting the traffic.

Several town officials have been asked to join in the meeting tonight, and it is probable that chairman Howell F. Shepard will be present.

Field Day To Close Poms On August 27

The annual field day at Poms Pond bathing beach will be held on Saturday, August 27, the beach closing the following day. Relay races will feature the event, and a kayak will be awarded to the most outstanding performer.

The committee is now receiving donations for ice cream and cake for the children.

The bath houses have been improved considerably in the past few weeks with the $300 transfer granted by the finance committee.

Mr. William Douty of Salem street, is resting comfortably at home following an operation for appendicitis.

"Big Mike" Again Presents Problem

The much-discussed "Big Mike," the scraper being bought by the Board of Public Works on a rental plan, has again provoked a little controversy, but it has apparently been settled. The machine broke down recently and some time was spent on it for repairs. The selectmen discovered early in the year that the town had been paying for repairs whereas the contract actually stated that the company should pay for all repairs during the rental period, and at that time a saving of $1000 was effected.

During the last repair job one of the town employees worked on the Big Mike for some time, and the selectmen wanted his pay for that time to be paid by the company as per the agreement. However, there was a difference of opinion as to the amount of time put in by the man, some reports saying that he worked on it for four days while superintendent Gilliard reported that it was only twenty minutes.

Sewer Problem Still Bothers

Forced to Spray Chemicals on Drain to Prevent Disease

While W. P. A. men frequently sprayed the errant sewage on the Shawsheen W. P. A. diverting drain job with chemicals, local public works and health authorities this week continued to study the problem of what should be done to remedy a bad health situation. Elevations are being taken by the B. P. W. in the Dufton road section, and the chances are that a sewer if authorized by the town would take care of both Dufton and Burnham roads and empty into the deeply-laid sewer on Arundel street. At present large tanks of a chemical mixture are kept at the drain, and frequent spraying is necessary.

Yesterday the health authorities turned their attention again to Pine street, with Dr. Archibald and a state health department engineer accompanying chairman Franklin H. Stacey of the local health board to the scene. They also paid a visit to Ballardvale. On the lower end of Pine street, Chairman Stacey states, during the rainy season the sewage flows from the cesspools into a wet-season brook which crosses Summer street near the Dea property and empties into Rogers Brook. In the dry season, he stated, the sewage is absorbed by the ground.

The group also inspected the Shawsheen river near Stimpson's bridge, where, Mr. Stacey reports, sewage is entering the river from the High street sewer, generally conceded to be inadequate.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Birnie of New York City are visiting Mrs. Louis A. Dane of Florence street.

Several tax collectors in Massachusetts have been bothered recently by counterfeit bills, and Andover's was no exception, a ten dollar bill of spurious origin being passed between August 1 and Aug-

When three names in one family are called four times at Bank Night, you might suspect something—but when those three persons are absent, you could suspect nothing.

A few weeks ago the name of a Sellars girl from Lawrence was called, and she wasn't present. Twice before the name of Nan Lambert had been called, and she wasn't present. Monday evening the name of Miss Edith Sellars was called, but Edith was home reading a book which cost her $153, three dollars for the book and $150 for reading it. The Lawrence girl is Edith's niece, and Nan Lambert is her sister.

Clean-up Before Town Meeting

A town meeting is coming, and in it the Board of Public Works will ask the town for sufficient money to supply materials, truck hire and supervision for the W. P. A. for the balance of the year, leaving the town to choose whether that sum shall be large enough to accomplish some permanent improvements or so small that we'll have to go back to gravel roads.

The Board is not looking forward to this town meeting, for a backward look at other town meetings shows them that again they may expect difficulties. For some reason or other, the town has not seemed kindly disposed toward most of the proposals offered by the Board in the past. The selectmen ask for a fire truck, and with little trouble it is granted; the school board asks for close to $200,000, and without a murmur the thing goes through; but when the Board of Public Works ask for some trucks and cars for economy's sake, the town rises up and thunders "No!"

The town will have to grant this new W. P. A. appropriation, for these men must be kept at work. Why then should the Board expect an unpleasant evening; why have they had unpleasant evenings at previous town meetings?

The real reason is that the town lacks confidence in the department. Other departments may possibly not be run efficiently, but this department has its men right out in public view, and the voters can see the waste that is going on. They're not attending the meeting to "get" the members of the board, for in general the members are all very highly regarded in town. That is why we hope that the board members will co-operate before town meeting by making a real effort to put the department on a really efficient basis, an efficiency which they demand of their own businesses. If this is done, the chances are pretty strong that the voters of this town will show their confidence in the board and in the department by following whatever worthy suggestions they may present.

That clean-up must include primarily a thorough going over of the personnel of the department. At present it includes some mighty good men, and it also includes some mighty poor men. The bosses who are good, who are in a position to deserve respect and obedience from the workers, should be kept in sufficient number to do the job right. The workers who give the town a day's work for a day's pay should be retained; the men who spend most of their time loafing should be replaced by some of our potential hard-workers who can't find employment. The men who show up at work unable to work properly because of too frequent and too copious drinking should be given their discharge, and men who prize a job enough to report sober should take their places. No bosses should have chauffeurs, and no drivers should drive their trucks as if it were equipped with a five-mile-an-hour governor.

These are the things that the townspeople see; these are the things that bother them, that make them throw down public works proposals, even the really meritorious ones. It's a bad situation for the town. But if the cause is corrected, the situation will be corrected, and the Board will find their town meeting path a much more pleasant one.

Take Them Away

Some of our wild young life has been busy lately taking away the lives of some of our wild life. These children probably fail to appreciate the value that our birds are to our trees and plants, but certainly mothers and fathers should know enough to stop their children from shooting at them. Some birds have been found with legs broken, others have been found dead, victims of some youngster who wanted to show how smart he was with the gun that his parents gave him as a plaything.

Give them a standing target to shoot at, and if they still choose to aim at birds, take the gun away from them. We need the birds; the children don't need the guns.

Let There Be Light

We'd like to ask the police department to ask the Board of Health to ask several property-owners in town to install lights of some sort above their privately-owned alleys, in the interests of public safety and public health. Under the recently adopted Board of Health rules the property-owners are made responsible for the proper sanitary maintenance of their property, and lighting, particularly in Post Office avenue, would aid in lessening some of the present unsanitary practices of a number of our permanent drunks.

Siftings

One of the W. P. A. men who protested loudly against our editorials about W. P. A. men drinking was involved in a brawl at a licensed establishment last week. Which just about does our editorial up brown.

If present plans go through, W. P. A. women will continue on sewing projects and W. P. A. men will go onto sewer projects.

Most famous breakdowns of the year: the school committee's little mikes and the B. P. W.'s big mike.

Stillwell And Riley To Meet In Finals

The finals in the Greater Lawrence senior tournament will be held at the Balmoral courts next Sunday afternoon between Stillwell and Riley who eliminated Keany and Buzzell in the semi-finals last Sunday.

Miss Edna Woodhead is visiting her sister in Claremont, N. H. Firemen C. Edward Buchan and Kerr Sparks are on their vacations. Miss Marion L. Abbott of Cedar road is enjoying a vacation with relatives in Sharon, Conn.

(To satisfy those who don't want to wait a week before seeing the answers, hereafter we shall carry the answer on the back page the same week that the questions are run.)

In the picture of the man buying Andover from the Indians on the town seal, is it the man or the Indian that has the peace-pipe in his hand?

Answer to last week's: Red Cross nurse Miss Marie Campbell, school nurse Miss Edith Moreton, health board nurse Mrs. Lotta Johnson, town infirmiry matron Mrs. E. Burke Thornton, and town physician Dr. John J. Hartigan.

Snake Added To Police Menagerie

First it was a horse, and then a pig, and then a dog, and now it's a snake. Dave Gillespie was getting a little envious of his fellow-officers for their recent zoological exploits, and he was also still nursing a grudge against them for their disbelief a year ago when he returned to the station and told them about the snake he had killed that was "this big." Up River road he went Sunday on his motorcycle, and just before he reached the seminary he drove over something in the street.

The thing kept on wriggling its way across the road, and so Dave swung around and went over it again, scraping his back wheel as it hit the snake. This made it a little less active, and a blow from a stick killed it. This time he decided to bring back the evidence, and he did, five feet eight inches of it, four inches in diameter. They just had to believe him this time.

At first they considered putting it in the desk where Sergeant Saunders would see it when he opened it up at night, but then they decided that the combination of snake and owl wouldn't be so good. So instead they put it out next to the cruising car in the yard, and officer George Dufton was the victim. It's no fun coming on a five foot eight inch snake with its head propped up in the dark.

League Submitting Questions To Candidates

All candidates for nomination to the office of Governor and Lieutenant-Governor will be asked to state their stand on several important public questions confronting the next administration by the Massachusetts League of Women Voters in a questionnaire issued to them today, according to an announcement made by the President, Mrs. Merle Fainsod. The Andover League is participating in this work.

The questions particularly emphasize views on personnel and changes in the civil service laws. Others have to do with the welfare and education of children, the completion of an equal political status of women, and a sales tax.

Branches of the League throughout the state will submit the same questions to candidates for the General Court in their respective district, and a League in each Council District will question candidates seeking nomination to the Executive Council. Selected Local Leagues will also question candidates for the office of Representative in Congress from their Districts, using the questions authorized by the National League to be used in Congressional Primary Elections throughout the nation.

The following questions go to candidates for State Office:

1. Do you favor
  - (a) Retention of the present law giving absolute preference to veterans on eligible lists in the civil service?
  - (b) Modification of the present law to provide a bonus of 5 points for able-bodied veterans and 10 points for disabled veterans?
  - (c) Abolition of veteran preference so that all candidates for civil service positions compete on an equal basis?
2. Do you favor civil service appointment of women being made entirely on the basis of merit regardless of economic or marital status?
3. Do you favor jury service for women?
4. Do you favor a general sales and use tax?
5. Do you favor special courts for juvenile offenders?
6. Do you favor retention of the present savings bank life insurance laws?
7. Do you believe that the teachers' oath law should be repealed?
8. Which do you favor and which do you oppose of the recommendations proposed by the Special Commission appointed to investigate so-called subversive activities in Massachusetts?

Aspirants for Congress are asked to give their views on five important National Issues, beginning with an inquiry on several phases of Public Personnel. Other issues are Reciprocal Trade Agreements; Neutrality; Suffrage for the District of Columbia, and the Equal Rights Amendment.

The League's policy to provide a non-partisan information service on candidates for public office was initiated in Massachusetts in 1920, the first election at which women were entitled to full franchise in all states. From the beginning, answers to the questionnaire have been widely publicized through the courtesy of the press and in bulletins issued by the League prior to the state primaries.

Legion Juniors Lose To Wakefield Team

Weakness at the bat and in the field again last Friday spelled defeat for the local Legion Juniors, Wakefield winning 9 to 1 in a five-inning post-season game. Andover made only three hits to Wakefield's eight, but beat them 4 to 1 in errors. Only three Wakefielders fanned, while six were walked and one reached when he was hit by the pitcher. The only bright spots in the Andover performance were White's fielding at short, Bishop's work at first, and MacLaughlin's snaring of a line drive.

Score Of Mystery Game Is Mystery

They had a baseball game down in Shawsheen last Friday night between the Andover-Shawsheen Realty team and the Mystery team, the result evidently being the main mystery. It seems that it got dark, and in the dark the Mystery nine scored three runs to put them ahead 5-3, a score which was more or less doubted by the Realtors.

To clarify the situation, the following story was sent to the Townsman by one who signed himself "Observer." We'll leave it to you to see if you can solve the mystery. Incidentally it's all been proof-read to the copy.

"Smacked in the Dark." Andover Shawsheen "Reaty" team given long count. Manager Flarety of the Mystery Team douses glimmer in the six innng with 3 runs in the dark. Mysterifs throw Flood lights on umpire. While Manager Sam Dermond argues daylight saving time. Flaerty instruts team to swat misqtoes instead of the ball.

The game was well contested up to the last ining it was give and take with the score, 3 to 2 in favor of the Realthy's. The Stars of the game was outstanding in the dark. Those that shown in the light was Warfrurst and Cole of the Mysterere's. Erler and Dermond of the Realty's. These boys knocked the daylight out of the Ball. The final score will be when these two teams meet again. Final Score. Mysterief 5 and And. Shaw. Realy 3.

The arguments on both sides waxed so hot at the close of the game it put the fan's out. Both Teams cooled off and shook hands singing "Till we meet again."

Former P. A. Athlete Dies At Home Here

Dr. Timothy J. Cullinane, retired physician who at one time enjoyed a very successful practice in Lowell, passed away Sunday afternoon at his home, 12 Ridge street, after a long illness.

Dr. Cullinane prepared at Punchard before going on to Phillips academy where he graduated in 1900. While on the Hill he was a fullback on the football team and also a pole vaulter, doing a consistent ten feet which was good in those days. He attended Villanova for one year and then went to the Harvard Medical school where he was a member of the class of 1904. From 1906 to 1920 he was prominent in medical circles.

He leaves two sisters: Miss Ellen M. Cullinane of Andover, and Sister Anna of the Angels, S.M.D., now stationed at Roxbury academy.

A solemn high mass of requiem was held Tuesday morning at St. Augustine's church, burial following in the church cemetery.

The mass was conducted by: Rev. Henry B. Smith, O.S.A., Rev. Francis Dillon, O.S.A., and Rev. Stephen Lanen, O.S.A. Selections were rendered by Mrs. M. C. Kimball and Miss Annie G. Donovan. Services at the grave were conducted by Fathers Smith and Leonard.

The bearers were Clarence Buckley, John Burke, Michael Donovan, John Hurley, James Levis, and Joseph Sullivan.

Mrs. Mary F. Haggerty of Clark road recently visited Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bailey of Hampton Beach.

Mrs. John A. Carlson of Highland Wayside will spend the remainder of the summer at Marlon where Mr. Carlson is captain of the Tabor boys.
